Found this on the number of mines from the following story:

<http://www.kunc.org/post/why-was-environmental-protection-agency-messing-mine-above-silverton#stream/0>

Fast forward to 2015, and the state of Colorado is dotted with abandoned mines -- 22,000, according to the state's Division of Mining, Reclamation and Safety

Will still continue looking, but looks like Gold King was gold and silver mining, so gold and silver ore.

Thanks!
